The New Year Begins!

It's hard to believe summer is coming to an end, and online classes are beginning. CEA continues to expand in many ways, not only with new students but with a new administrator and a few new teachers as well! CEA is committed to maintaining a small, intimate private school setting. Most of our teachers have between 10-20 students per class and do their best to interact with students on a regular basis. This year, we have added a few new teachers in Apex, namely Dr. Carr-Back in English 11 and Mrs. Sutcliffe in Geometry + Precalculus. Both are experienced teachers and wonderful additions to the CEA team!

New Administrator

Hello Everyone!

My name is Mr. Cole Barnett. I teach both English and Physical Science classes at CEA. I am excited to be entering my eighth year of teaching, and am especially thrilled to be starting my first year as a full-time administrator at Christian Educators Academy. Along with my duties as a teacher to students using both Apex and GradPoint courses, I will be assisting all GradPoint high school students as a Homeroom teacher. This will really allow me to get to know students and parents on a more interactive level and assist whenever I am needed. I am so excited to see what the new year brings, and I hope you are all ready to kick off a fantastic start to our semester together!

New: Homerooms!

This year CEA is instituting a new "Homeroom" system! Every student in CEA will be assigned a homeroom teacher. If you are an Apex student, you have Miss G. as your homeroom teacher. If you are a high school student on Gradpoint, your homeroom teacher is Mr. Barnett (Mr. B). If you are a middle school student on Gradpoint, your homeroom teacher is Mr. Zabor.

Every two weeks you should expect an email from your homeroom teacher. Homeroom teachers will also email or call parents of struggling students. We will be checking in with you about your pacing and to see if you need any help. If you have general questions about the school, please feel free to email your homeroom teacher at any time! We are there to support you, and we hope that this new homeroom system will allow us to intervene with struggling students earlier and help us encourage students who are already "cruising" with their work!

All students have been mailed a good "old-fashioned" paper student planner so that you can keep track of all your assignments, activities, and other important dates. There are helpful CEA pages in the beginning of each planner to help you use them well and give you access to important CEA basics any time!

Contact mrsx@christian-educators.com if you did not get one.
